MARCO PIERRE WHITE STEAK & ALEHOUSE

2015

Marco Pierre White Steak & Alehouse is a traditional steakhouse in the heart of the Square Mile, serving a mouth-watering choice of steak cuts and a range of timeless English dishes.

Its discreet entrance, just off bustling Bishopsgate, leads you into an archetypal steakhouse dining room, complete with a stylish cocktail bar and a private dining room seating up to 20 people. As well as the finest quality steaks, the menu features grilled and roast meats, fish mainboards and classic English puddings.

The main restaurant can be adapted to suit occasions of any size from a table of 10 for business lunches to a full-blown wedding celebration. Up to 130 people can be seated for dinner and up to 200 for drinks and canapés occasions in this room. Our private dining room seats up to 20 for exclusive events and features a 50" plasma screen.

A GUIDE TO BEEF CUTS

RIBEYE

Rich with marbling and traditionally matured, ribeyes have plenty of fat running through them, which helps maintain extra juiciness.

It also helps keep the steak tender if it's cooked for longer, so ribeyes are perfect for those who prefer their steak cooked medium or even well done.

T-BONE

A large steak for steak lovers, taken from the whole sirloin.

On one side of the T bone is a piece of lean fillet; on the other is a classic sirloin steak.

FILLET

Fillet is the leanest and most tender cut as it's the laziest muscle on the cow; a real 'melt in the mouth' steak.

They may be the most expensive cut, but they're well worth it!

SIRLOIN

Sirloins have an excellent balance of flavour and tenderness and sit just above the fillet, so best served medium rare.

Sometimes served on the bone for extra flavour from the marrow, the bone also helps to cook it through evenly and looks fantastic on the plate!

RUMP

Rump steaks are often considered the best for flavour and as such are very versatile.

They are slightly less tender with more texture than a sirloin, but are usually a little cheaper.

COOKING STEAKS

We serve our steaks on the advice of our selected UK specialist butchers. We are happy to accommodate your preferences of course, but we suggest the following:

SIRLOIN: served medium rare

FILLET: served rare

Rump: served medium rare

Tail-on Ribeye: served medium
